Family Advocacy Centers 2024

Family Advocacy Centers tailor their services to the individual needs of the communities they serve. In addition to general counseling and advocacy, referral and training services, a typical center may also offer the following services: systematic family support services, psycho-social education and support groups for women and children who are victims of domestic violence, services for perpetrators of domestic violence, special programing for fathers, after-school, summer and out-of-school programs, parent coaching, mentoring and classes in English and Spanish, execution of intervention strategies to support the family reunification process, Financial Literacy, court ordered supervised child visitation for non-custodial parents, food pantries and child care.

Please note that general counseling is not mental health counseling, or clinical therapy. General Counseling for FACs includes case management and is educational in nature. Family Advocates provide a general orientation to systems in the program participants' communities and those they are involved with and may facilitate entry into certain systems. Family Advocates help participants clarify their thoughts and needs relating to family stability and assist them in planning and executing their plan to achieve their goals.

Some Family Advocacy Centers also provide Triple P Parenting Services as part of the Department's Family First prevention effort, supportive services in response to calls to the hotline for child welfare services and work with the Department through a dedicated staff to provide Kinship Navigator Services. Additionally, some of the Family Advocacy Centers are now receiving child welfare referrals from calls made to the hotline which do not rise to the level of an abuse investigation.

Family Advocacy Centers serve all members of the Community including DCFS involved families and DCFS Alumni. Although Family Advocacy Centers were initially designed to prevent community families from becoming involved with the Department, FAC Advocates partner with intact and placement workers as well to help their participants meet service plan goals and achieve permanency. Family Advocacy Centers also reach out to DCFS youth aging out of care to offer supportive services.

Family Advocacy Center staff receive certification in the Quality Standards of Family Strengthening endorsed by the National Family Support Network and based on the 5 protective factors 9 principles of family strengthening. Illinois is also part of this network.

Post Pandemic services offered by Family Advocacy Centers continue with a hybrid of virtual and in-person work. Based on satisfaction surveys and quarterly narratives participants have been appreciative of this hybrid model of service delivery are overall satisfied with the services received.

Anger Management Program	Developed to help an individual gain better control over their emotions in order to prevent outbursts that may lead to other negative outcomes. The goal is to help an individual develop healthy skills and strategies for dealing with stresses, pressures and other situations that may prompt feelings of anger. We also use conflict resolution in our classes.
Parenting Class Program	Developed to help and strengthen parents to raise a child in today's uncertain and dangerous world. The goal is to help a parent develop and use nonviolent discipline techniques, instill confidence in their child and encourage mutual respect. Sankofa's mission is to provide trauma informed supportive services.
Counseling Program	Developed for individuals, couples and families to create a process of working together to identify areas of growth and build on areas of strength to help lead healthier and fuller lives. The goal is to help individuals, couples and families gain a new perspective on their situation, help address those situations and focus on practical solutions to move forward with their lives. We offer individual and group therapy.
Grandparents Raising Grandchildren	Created in early 2002 in response to the large number of grandparents making calls to Sankofa for assistance with their grandchildren. We use the village concept.
Domestic Violence Program	Developed to provide specialized service customized for individuals who have committed acts of domestic violence against their spouse or partner. The goal is to help individuals to recognize, understand and ultimately change their abusive behavior. Currently have a facilitator going through training to begin these services.
