History of the Foster Parent Law

In the late 80's as Chair of the Child Welfare Subcommittee, Representative Tom Dart traveled around the state listening to child welfare issues. Foster parents who were already involved in the Illinois Foster Parent Association attended those town meetings and began voicing their concerns. As a result, a select few were invited to testify in political forums. The result of Representative Dart's findings led to a legislative report of recommendations for improving the child welfare system. Included in those recommendations was a Foster Parent Bill of Rights.

Representative Dart introduced the Foster Parent Bill of Rights to the Illinois General Assembly, but because of its lack of legal language and corresponding responsibility section the Bill was referred for negotiations. A Governor's Task Force was formed to create a "responsibility" section and to write the entire recommendation in a legal format. A few legislators, selected DCFS staff, and some of the original group of foster parents were assigned to this taskforce.

On June 3rd, 1995, Governor Edgar signed Public Policy 89.19 into law. The original Foster Parent Bill of Rights, now incorporated in The Foster Parent Law, became a reality on its third trip before the legislature. Its title is misleading because it is good child welfare practice that is not intended to be a solution but a step toward better teamwork between DCFS and foster parents. Indeed, it is the foundation for all foster parent trainings, conferences, and work groups. It is also a part of new worker training and will be included in Best Practice.

The fifteen Rights and seventeen Responsibilities listed in the Foster Parent Law provide a job description for foster parents. The Foster Parent Law is also a part of DCFS policy (P.T. 2000.14) and rule (Foster Parent Code 340). "The Department and purchase of service agencies are responsible for developing annual plans for implementation of the law to ensure that foster parents are provided with the information and support to fulfill their responsibility to fully participate as a member of the child welfare team," [Foster Parent Code – Section 340.30]. Annual plans must be submitted to the Illinois Statewide Foster Parent Advisory Council for review and approval. The implementation plan must state how each DCFS region or private agency will implement the law for their licensed foster parents. These plans are graded and must achieve a passing rate or they are returned to the agency for resubmission. A monitoring process is being developed that will hold regions and agencies accountable for their plans.

FOSTER PARENT RIGHTS

(HOW THE AGENCY IS ADDRESSING EACH FOSTER PARENT RIGHT IN THE FOSTER PARENT LAW)

FOSTER PARENT RIGHTS	CRITERIA FOR ENSURING EACH FOSTER PARENT'S RIGHTS	THE SOUTHERN REGION'S CURRENT OR PLANNED IMPLEMENTATION METHODS TO ENSURE CRITERIA FOR FOSTER PARENT RIGHTS
1) The right to be treated with dignity, respect, and consideration as a professional member of the child welfare team.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The agency or region has and implements strategies to ensure that its foster parents are treated with dignity and respect.</li> </ul>	The Southern Region has the following strategies in place to ensure that foster parents are treated with dignity and respect: The Foster Parent Law is defined in the Southern Region Implementation Plan. Foster parents are made aware of the Plan via support groups, staff members, Foster Parent Support Specialist, their Leads, and it is discussed at Foster Parent Law training region wide. Foster parents are encouraged to submit their suggestions and comments either in person at the Advisory Council meetings, by mail, e-mail, phone calls, or at local support groups. Foster parents are very important members of the child welfare team. Mutual respect and confidence is built on positive experiences and open communication between the foster parent and the Department. Foster parents are given recognition for years of service and their crucial role as part of the team. This recognition is acknowledged through annual appreciation events and fairs, attended by agency staff and foster parents. The success of the team approach to case planning is measured through foster parent satisfaction surveys. The foster parents are further treated with dignity, respect and consideration by the following methods and procedures: Direct line staff learn techniques to engage and empower all members involved in the child welfare system, which includes treating foster parents with dignity and respect, during their initial training. This continues by offering Trauma Focused training. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Foster parents are encouraged to attend and provide input at Administrative Case Reviews (ACR's)</li> <li>Foster parents have the opportunity to work with birth parents through mentoring and reunification activities</li> <li>Foster parents serve as educational advocates for Foster Children, and have access to the Regional Educational Liaison via referral by the child welfare specialist</li> <li>Foster parents are offered access to resources on LANs (Local Area Networks), (CFTM) Child and Family Team meetings; through wrap around services and encouraged to become active participants in the community services for their youth in care</li> <li>Foster Parent Satisfaction Surveys are utilized, and the data gathered will shape future services. Information gathered is aggregated quarterly and provided to the appropriate Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) staff. In July 2021, a Statewide Foster Parent Survey was developed to assess training. Support and service satisfaction. There were 1,307 surveys</li> </ul>

The following types of training are made available to foster parents on a continuing basis: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Standardized Pre-Service schedules are currently in place for the Southern Region. The PRIDE training is being revised and will continue to be offered in person and on line. (See attached schedules in the Attachments Section). Relative Only caregivers have the option of receiving necessary training via DVD.</li> <li>• In-service training including educational advocacy, and adoption conversion for licensed foster parents occurs on a regular basis. In-service Training is offered at a variety of sites.</li> <li>• Foster parent co-training with staff occurs during PRIDE In-Service training. There is also Foster Parent Law co-training held at a variety of sites in the Region annually.</li> <li>• Mutual assessment for training needs occur at semi-annual monitoring visits, during corrective action planning, at re-licensing or when changes occur in families that threaten to disrupt placement.</li> <li>• Training commensurate with the levels of care provided based on the mutual assessment listed above. Foster parents are encouraged to take advantage of available training, conferences, seminars, Foster Parent Support Specialist Training and other community linkages.</li> <li>• Evidence of ongoing training schedules or calendars can be found in the Attachment Section. The Division of Training and Development Services makes this information available on the DCFS web site, www.dcfstraining.org. For a copy of the current schedule, or to obtain a Virtual Training Center (VTC) identification number contact the Training Unit at 877-800-3393. At DCFS sponsored training, foster parents are given a form with information on how to set up a VTC account. (See Training Attachment section)</li> </ul>

3) The right to be informed as to how to contact the appropriate child care agency in order to receive information and assistance to access supportive services for children in the foster parent care.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 24 hour/7 day availability of emergency support</li> <li>• Established method for accessing support services (e.g., SASS, placement stabilization and staff phone numbers and on-call schedules)</li> </ul>	The Southern Region utilizes the following methods to ensure that foster parents have access to the Department’s emergency services on a 24-hour 7 day a week basis: The Southern Region maintains a comprehensive support system to ensure the accessibility of staff and other service providers to assist foster parents and foster children 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. An after-hours, emergency response can be accessed through the statewide Child Abuse Hotline (1-800-25-ABUSE). Hotline staff contact local Department staff who are "on call" to respond to reports of child abuse and neglect as well as crises experienced by foster parents. Many workers and supervisors share their home phone numbers with foster parents, particularly during times of crisis. If a foster parent and their worker (or on-call worker) are unable to resolve a crisis with a child themselves, the foster parent and worker can obtain crisis response services through their local Intensive Placement Stabilization provider. Intensive Placement Stabilization (IPS) staff are also available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and can be contacted through the statewide Crisis and Referral Line/CARES 1-800-345-9049; TTY 1-800-905-9645; www.hfs.illinois.gov. If a foster parent is confronted with behaviors by a foster child that the foster parent believes may create an immediate risk of harm to the child or others, the foster parent is encouraged to access Screening, Assessment, Support Services (SASS) services to assess the child for psychiatric hospitalization. SASS agencies are also contacted through the Statewide Crisis and Referral Line/CARES 1-800-345-9049. Licensed foster parents are given information about after-hours support on an individual basis by their youth in care’s worker. At the time of placement in the home of a non-licensed home. An informational sheet is completed and left for the family with important numbers and resources, such as the local Foster Parent Support Specialists (FPSS) are a valuable support to foster parents available 24 hours a day 7 days a week and are experts on resources available in their counties. New foster parents are given the contact information of the FPSS serving their area. The Foster Family Handbook is another valuable resource tool, and section nine of the Handbook provides information about supportive services in detail. Foster parent support groups are available to foster parents throughout the Southern Region. FPSS share this information on Facebook sites, by email to foster parents, with information given to the caseworkers or by flyers in the field offices. As cases are assigned from the Case Assignment Unit, the placement is reviewed, if it is a non-licensed placement then at the time of notification of the office receiving the case, the case is also sent to the to the assigned foster parent support specialist as well as licensing worker. To follow up

		with the new placement and family for resources as well as encourage them to complete the licensing forms and become finger printed as soon as possible. Youth Care DCFS liaisons are available to caseworkers and foster parents to aid in locating local physicians, dentists, optometrists, Women Infant Child (WIC) providers and other specialty providers. Youth Care can be contacted at 844-289-2264 or https://client.envolvehealth.com/sso/login. Lists of licensed childcare providers are available through the Department or to Child Care Resource and Referral (CCR&amp;R) upon request. The issue is shortages, since the pandemic many providers are full and unable to accept clients, causing issues for parent returning to work.

4) The right to receive timely financial reimbursement commensurate with the care needs of the child as specified in the service plan	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Regular board payment (attached rate schedule)</li> <li>• Payment for additional services, such as respite care and camp</li> <li>• Timely assessment and payment commensurate with levels of care provided</li> <li>• Method of resolving payment problems</li> </ul>	The Southern Region recognizes that the prompt processing of 906 Placement forms is vital to ensure that foster parents receive a timely reimbursement. Effective July 1, 2006 the Case Assignment Payment Unit (CAPU) began data entering all Southern Region placements. Workers will submit the CAPU packets in a timely manner to ensure the foster parent provider receives their payment via the earliest board run. The Region expectation is that the 906 on all subsequent placement information be emailed in immediately following placements during regular business hours or the morning of the next business day for placements that occur after hours or weekends. Regular board payment rate schedule attached. Foster parents should receive the board rate for each placement. Under the guideline of Department Rule/Procedure 359, the Southern Region ensures foster parent's rights to payment for additional services such as respite and camp on a child-by-child basis. The youth in care's permanency worker, in conjunction with foster parent's input, initiates this request for extra support services. This may require the completion of one of the following forms: Special Service Fee or Exception to Payment Request. Supporting documentation will need to be provided by the foster parent, for instance, camp brochures, billing summary, flyers with specific dates and information, a cancelled check or the payee's name and address. Once all documentation has been gathered and the worker completes the necessary form, the immediate supervisor signs off. At that time the paperwork is submitted to the Area Administrator, who approves the request, which is subsequently forwarded to the Regional Office for processing. Due by the end of by fiscal year. 06/30 through 06/30 to avoid having to file through small claims court. Foster parent daycare payment is secured by the worker completing a CFS 2000 Part 1 Day Care Services Application with the foster parent. Foster parents must also submit proof of current employment hours or school schedule requiring the child care. Specific requirements are detailed on the form. The CFS 2000 Part 1 requires the signatures of the worker, supervisor, and foster parents. The CFS Part 2 Day Care Services Eligibility Agreement &amp; Rate Certification must be completed and signed by the day care provider. All of the above documentation must be submitted to the daycare unit within 30 days of daycare service start date. Timely assessment and payment commensurate with levels of care provided is assured by: All children who enter substitute care must be screened for special mental or medical health needs by the placing worker through the use of the "CFS 418-J; Checklist for Children at Initial Placement." When special needs are identified, the worker is to email this CFS 418-J checklist and supporting documentation to the Specialized Gatekeeping and CAPU to consider for placement of the child in specialized foster care. If approved by the Specialized Gatekeeper, the child is referred to an agency that contracts with the Department to provide this, and the child should be placed in a foster home that receives an intensive level of services from the agency
--	---	---

Right 4 (con't)	along with a specialized foster care board payment. When cases cannot be transferred to a community-based partners for specialized care/case, DCFS maintains the case. Often, a child in care's mental health or behavioral concerns are not readily apparent at initial placement. The Integrated Assessment (IA), which is completed in the first 45 days (at the present time only new traditional cases), is designed to identify any needs a child coming into care may have. However, when foster parents confront difficult behaviors from the child following placement, foster parents are afforded in-home crisis intervention, placement stabilization and other therapeutic services through local community resources and Intensive Placement Stabilization (IPS). Trauma training is available to the foster parents. IPS providers assess the strengths and needs of the child and foster family and identify the necessary supports to preserve the child's placement. In the event that the PCS provider assesses that the child in a Priority clinical staffing, requiring a higher level of foster care with more intensive services, the IPS provider will make this recommendation through a referral by the child's worker to the Clinical unit for a priority Clinical Staffing. Child and Family Team Meetings are available to families at their request. If the child is approved for specialized foster care, the child is referred to one of the contract agencies that provide this level of care. When it is in the child's best interest to remain with their current foster parent, the supervision of the child's placement in that foster home is provided by the contracted agency, and the foster parent receives a specialized foster care board rate. Method of resolving payment problems: Foster parents who disagree with the determination on the child's eligibility for specialized foster care may file an appeal through the Administrative Hearings Unit. Any payment problems involving a DCFS foster parent caring for a child supervised by a private agency is directed to the regional Agency Performance Monitoring and Execution (APME). Other payment issues are addressed in the Foster Family Handbook in Section 9. The Southern Region Department staff offer foster parents help in addressing these issues. Foster Parents are offered financial assistance for mentoring biological parents, participating in co-parenting activities, transporting children to medical and counseling appointments, and supervising siblings' visitation. Limited funds are available to reimburse foster families for extracurricular activities. The Foster Parent Hotline to follow up on the status of a payment can be reached at 800-525-0499. There have been issues around clothing vouchers, as in the Southern Region there are very few to no places that will take out vouchers. So as of 2021 we are trying a pilot project to give the families gift cards to make the purchases and return those receipts to the fiscal unit.

Notification of the review date is mailed to the foster parent approximately 14 days prior to review in order to make alterations in date of the review and to gather information.</li> <li>• Foster parents are given a copy of the child's portion of the Service Plan and if they are unable to attend should be mailed to them.</li> <li>• Often phone calls should be utilized for timely notification of changes.</li> <li>• As stated in the permanency initiative Policy Guide 98.1 the Southern Region ensures that caseworkers provide the primary foster parents a monthly face-to-face consultation.</li> <li>• Participation/input into visitation/communication plan shall be ensured and encouraged by use of the Behavior Log, and Medication Log. These are forms submitted in writing by the foster parent and given to workers during monthly in-home visits.</li> <li>• Other means of gathering information for input into the plan is phone calls to and visits with the foster parents.</li> <li>• The foster parent will notify the worker on the amount of communication and interaction with the birth family that is comfortable for them. Foster parents can stipulate if they want flexible telephone conversations with the birth family and their willingness to sponsor visits. They will also discuss their ability to transport the child to family visits in order to build on the importance of family preservation.</li> <li>• The CFS 250-A Caregiver's Self-Assessment of Reunification Preparedness is utilized by foster parents in conjunction with licensing staff at initial licensure and at least annually to assist foster parents in determining their willingness and ability to participate in a reunification goal for a child in their care.</li> </ul>

6) The right to be provided a fair, timely, and impartial investigation of complaints concerning the foster parent's licensure, to be provided the opportunity to have a person of the foster parent's choosing present during the investigation, and to be provided due process during the investigation; the right to be provided the opportunity to request and receive mediation or an administrative review of decisions that affect licensing parameters, or both mediation and an administrative review; and the	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Policy describing the agency's investigation of alleged violations and demonstration of how the agency disseminates that information to foster parents</li> <li>• Person of foster parent's choosing present during the investigation</li> <li>• Specified time frames for investigation</li> <li>• Procedure for appealing negative results/corrective action plans (NOTE: Merely stating that DCFS procedure is followed is not sufficient.)</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Policy describing the agency's investigation of alleged violations is made available via the DCFS training website, www.dcfstraining.org.</li> <li>• During the initiation of licensing complaints, foster parents are granted a grace period of 4 hours to obtain an advocate. When initiating a licensing complaint, the assigned Foster Home Licensing Representative (FHLR) worker is required to verbally inform the foster parent that they may have an advocate of their choice present during the course of their interview.</li> <li>• There are specified time frames for investigation of complaints. Additionally, the FHLR is required to explain to the foster parent under investigation of a complaint that within thirty (30) days of their interview they will receive written correspondence concerning their complaint. If an extension is necessary, the foster parent is informed by the FHLR.</li> <li>• The procedure for appealing negative results/corrective action plans is explained in a written action plan stating the licensing violation, corrections need, and time frame for completion. The Foster Parent may request an informal review either verbally or in writing by contacting the FHLR supervisor. If agreement is not reached, the Foster Care Licensing Manager, upon request from the foster parent and prior to an Administrative Hearing will conduct an Informal Hearing. If an Administrative Hearing is requested, a meeting with the Foster Care Licensing Manager is scheduled within 10 business days</li> </ul> In addition, this Region follows the Statewide policy of concurrent investigations for Division of Child Protection (DCP) reports. When a DCP report is received, the FHLR is notified and a concurrent investigation is completed. Foster parents are given a written notification of rights regarding child abuse/neglect investigations per CFS 1050-54, What You Need to Know About a Child Abuse or Neglect Investigation. The Foster Parent Support Specialist (FPSS) and the Foster Family Handbook are two excellent sources for foster parents to review this process, have questions answered and get additional information. Foster Parents are encouraged to attend internal support groups such as special events, in 2020 the State Fair event was cancelled due to the COVID-19 pandemic restrictions. But in 2021 picnic lunches could be picked up by families and they were also issued free parking passes as well as arm bands for riding rides and arm bands were offered to the families at a discounted rate for their biological families.

Once the case is opened CAPU sends it by email to the area where court took place, the Supervisor assigns it to a case worker, and they arrange a staffing and handoff with Investigations. As the caseworker learns about the case and gathers historical information and starts making service referrals, they share what they can with the foster family. All team members involved in the foster child’s case have a right to share information relevant to the care of the foster child on a need to know basis. They encourage on-going open communication between staff and the foster parent. Workers meet with the foster families in their home at least once a month and encourage telephone contact when information is needed or to be shared by any team member. Foster parents are encouraged to participate in school staffings and to transport and participate in any counseling that involves the child. Foster parents are also encouraged to be an active participant in the Clinical Intervention for Placement Preservation (CIPP) and Integrated Assessment (IA) process. During a CIPP foster parents are crucial, as they have the most specific information regarding the stability issues a child is experiencing in their placement. Foster parents are asked to provide descriptions of a child's behaviors to guide in supporting a placement or identifying a new placement level of care.

In addition, the Permanency Achievement Specialist Team can assist in the process of identifying past placements.</li> </ul> Southern Region's process for determining best interest regarding placement decisions includes use of Inter-Ethic Placement Act (IEPA) Matching Tool. This tool determines whether a foster parent is willing and capable of accommodating the child or sibling group and whether or not they are to be considered for permanency. In the counties identified as an "Immersion site" are no longer doing the Matching tool but noting if the Fostering Family can meet the needs of the child being placed as well as training or cultural concerns that might need to be addressed in a Staffing note. Supervisors of placement workers are enforcing the "Best Practice" policy to make sure that former foster parents are to be considered for children previously in care. Former placements are documented in the child's case file. If the former placement was a positive experience, effort is put in force to replace the child in that home, if possible. When a child is returned home from a private agency foster home placement, and replacement occurs, the former home will be considered so the child will suffer less trauma.

14) The right to have timely access to the child placement agency's existing appeals process and the right to be free from acts of harassment and retaliation by any other party when exercising the right to appeal	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Documentation that an internal appeals system has been established and description of how it prohibits retaliation</li> <li>• Process for accessing the external DCFS appeals system, when necessary</li> </ul>	The Southern Region has adopted a grievance process as its internal appeals system for foster parents to contest agency decisions considered violations of the Foster Parent Law. Foster parents are given a brochure that explains the Southern Region grievance process. This process begins with an informal discussion of the issue between the foster parent and caseworker, with the assistance of the Foster Parent Support Specialist (FPSS) and the caseworker's supervisor, if necessary. If the parties cannot reach an agreement informally, the foster parent has the right to file a formal grievance, using the Formal Grievance Form (See Attachment Section). This form provides a method for the foster parent to communicate the alleged violation of the Foster Parent Law as well as their desired resolution to the problem. Foster parents must submit this form to the caseworker's supervisor within 45 days of the incident that prompted the grievance. The foster parent's grievance is first heard at the supervisor's level, with grievances not resolved advancing to the next level of management, from supervisor to Area Administrators, to the Regional Administrator (RA). The matter may be resolved at any of these levels, with the resolution documented on a Resolution Form. The RA is the final authority in the grievance process. Decisions on the grievance must be reached within 30 days of the arrival of the grievance at the applicable DCFS office. Retaliation is prohibited, and diminished by the above multi-layered process. In the event of a perceived retaliation to a grievance, the foster parent will contact the FPSS Lead who will staff the situation with the Licensing Supervisor and Foster Care Licensing Manager. The Southern Region ensures foster parent's rights to be informed about the external DCFS appeal process by taking the following measures: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Local field offices stock and maintain adequate supplies of the brochures entitled "The Services Appeal Process Form CFS-1050-32." Field offices are also encouraged to display the service appeal brochures in manners that are readily accessible to foster parents and the consumers they served.</li> </ul> The service appeal process is a two-step process. The first step in the process is mediation, which is a meeting open to all parties affected by the decision being appealed, to attempt to reach agreement on the issue in dispute with a mediator who assists the parties in resolving issues and drawing up an agreement. If the issue is not resolved through mediation, the next step is the fair hearing. At a fair hearing the Administrative Law Judge conducts a hearing in which the Department and all parties may present evidence supporting their position. The Administrative Law Judge then makes a recommendation to the Director of the Department based on the evidence presented at the hearing. ## FOSTER PARENT RESPONSIBILITIES

(HOW THE AGENCY IS ADDRESSING EACH FOSTER PARENT RESPONSIBILITY IN THE FOSTER PARENT LAW)

FOSTER PARENT RESPONSIBILITIES	CRITERIA FOR ENSURING EACH FOSTER PARENT'S RESPONSIBILITIES	THE SOUTHERN REGION'S CURRENT OR PLANNED IMPLEMENTATION METHODS TO ENSURE CRITERIA FOR FOSTER PARENT RESPONSIBILITIES
1) The responsibility to openly communicate and share information about the child with other members of the child welfare team.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Training on type and importance</li> </ul>	The Southern Region assists foster parents with their responsibilities to openly share information about their youth in care with team members by providing them FOSTER/ADOPT PRIDE pre-service and PRIDE in-service training. Foster Parent Law Training is offered annually to workers and foster parents. This co-training covers Rights and Responsibilities and highlights child specific communication expectations. Service Planning, Integrated Assessment (IA), Priority Clinical Staffing (PCS) and Administrative Case Reviews (ACR's) and Child and Family Team Meetings (CFTM) all serve as opportunities for workers/supervisors to share specific communication expectations.

2) The responsibility to respect the confidentiality of information concerning foster children and their families and act appropriately within applicable confidentiality laws and regulations.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Initial and ongoing training on importance of confidentiality</li> <li>• Laws and regulations available to foster parents</li> </ul>	The Southern Region collaborates with Division of Training and Development Services to assist and support foster parents regarding their responsibilities as licensed providers. The Southern Region offers foster parents a variety of initial and ongoing trainings to help them understand their roles in safeguarding the importance of confidential information concerning foster children and their bio-families. The concept of confidentiality for new foster parents is being re-enforced through pre-service PRIDE training. Confidentiality is an important part of the foster parent’s responsibility and is part of the Licensing Standards Section 402.24. This is reviewed on an ongoing basis at each foster home licensing visit. Social Media has presented a new challenge with confidentiality. In April 2014, Administrative Procedure 28 was released which outlines how social media and mobile safety should be handled by foster parents, staff and youth in care. This procedure gives clear guidelines to use when confronted with issues surrounding social media and mobile technology. In conjunction with this procedure a form was released, CFS 2034 Social Media/Mobile Safety Agreement. This form is a tool to be utilized by foster parents and caseworkers to establish agreed upon, clear rules regarding the use of digital devices and social media by DCFS youth in care. This form is also included in the placement packet that is left with the care givers at placement or hand off. The current policy on laws and regulations regarding confidentiality is available and circulated by the Foster Parent Support Specialists (FPSS), through PRIDE training, the Foster Family Handbook, the DCFS web site; www.state.il.us/dcfs, and other trainings.

3) The responsibility to advocate for children in the foster parent's care.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Educational advocacy training available</li> <li>• Court training available</li> <li>• Service appeal brochures and training available</li> <li>• Encouragement to participate in staffings, Administrative Case Reviews (ACR's), Clinical Intervention for Placement Preservation (CIPP), Integrated Assessment (IA), case conferences and court hearings</li> </ul>	The Southern Region actively encourages, assists and supports foster parents to advocate for children in their care by taking the following measures: The Educational Advocacy Training is mandatory for all licensed foster parents. Training is made available in conjunction with the completion of the Foster/Adopt PRIDE Training. An Educational Advisor is available for the Southern Region. The advisor services are available to workers and foster parents who are advocating for educational services via referral from the child welfare specialist. Information regarding access to the Educational Advisors is placed in the OUR KIDS section of Families Now and Forever newsletter on an annual basis. Court training is addressed in the pre-service training. The Foster Family Handbook also addresses the Court system. This information is found in Section 2 of the Handbook. The Service Appeal Process is discussed in the Foster/Adopt PRIDE Training and is also addressed in the Foster Family Handbook under Section 8 pages 49-51. Service Appeal brochures are available via caseworkers, Administrative Case Reviews (ACR's), and in each field office. Participation in Staffings, ACR's, Clinical Intervention for Placement Preservation (CIPP), Integrated Assessment (IA), case conferences, court hearings and Child and Family Team Meetings (CFTM) is encouraged by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Notification of ACR's by the ACR Unit.</li> <li>• Notification of court hearings by the caseworker as discussed in Right #12.</li> <li>• Notification of CIPP by caseworker as discussed in Right #1.</li> <li>• Notification of IA by the Intake Coordinator.</li> <li>• Monthly support from the Foster Parent Support Specialist (FPSS).</li> <li>• Routine communication with Placement Worker (in-person, phone, letter, etc.)</li> <li>• As stated in the Permanency Initiative, Policy Guide 98.1, the Southern Region ensures that caseworkers provide the foster parents a monthly face-to-face consultation.</li> </ul>

4) The responsibility to treat children in the foster parent's care and the children's families with dignity, respect, and consideration.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Initial and ongoing training on this topic</li> <li>• Monitoring by staff charged with case management</li> </ul>	The Southern Region utilizes initial training on the significance of the birth family in Foster/Adopt Pre-Service. Foster parents are trained to realize that birth families are significant players on the Child Welfare Team. Because children have a biological connection, acceptance of the family is important to the child to be able to build high self-esteem for the child needing placement. Foster parents are given the opportunity to participate in Life Book Training and activities, as well, which supports the telling of a child's story, including information about their birth families. Caseworkers, per Department Policy, are required to monitor youth in care. The foster parent must be visited face-to-face one time a month for the purpose of gathering information and at these visits caseworkers interview children privately to ensure they are being treated with dignity, respect and consideration by the foster parent. Caseworkers meet with the birth family and the foster family to enhance a working relationship that reflects dignity, respect and consideration for all team members. Foster Families are encouraged to work with the biological family and participate in Child and Family Team Meetings when appropriate. Through Support/Training Groups and individual meetings, Foster Parent Support Specialists work with foster parents to create positive attitudes towards co-parenting and reunification.
--	--	--

5) The responsibility to recognize the foster parent’s own individual and familial strengths and limitations when deciding whether to accept a child into care; and the responsibility to recognize the foster parent’s own support needs and utilize appropriate supports in providing care for children in care.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Ongoing mutual assessment method</li> <li>• Training based on assessments</li> <li>• Placements based on strengths</li> <li>• Support needs addressed</li> </ul>	During the initial licensing assessment foster families assist the Foster Home Licensing Representative (FHLR) in determining the age range and capacity that best suits their family. This information is then utilized to mutually assess what types of children will best fit into the home and what type of training may be needed, based on the foster families perceived and identified strengths and needs. During the foster home licensing visits this information is reviewed again to ensure accuracy. FPSS routinely interview the foster families to identify their preference and FPSS educate field staff. Foster parents are encouraged to attend trainings, conferences, classes, etc., that address the areas the foster parents have identified through the assessment process as areas of need. Based on the assessment, workers encourage foster parents to participate in outside classes to become more competent in areas of need. Through the continuing Quality Improvement (QI) activities of the Foster Care Licensing Unit current foster parents and foster parents leaving service will be mailed exit surveys requesting input regarding the usefulness of training provided and/or additional needs. The Southern Region works to create an atmosphere of trust and mutual respect to express their right to say “no” to a placement during stressful times. The foster home is offered the opportunity to be placed on Voluntary Hold. All field staff (licensing, FPSS and field – what would it take to make placement possible, what supports would be needed.) The foster parents impose limitations (based on strengths) for themselves on the acceptance of a new placement. Foster parents are an essential team player when placements occur, and through open communication with their worker, they are open and assertive in obtaining services and skills necessary to be competent foster parents. Workers also utilize Foster Parent Support Specialists (FPSS), SASS, Intensive Placement Stabilization (IPS), and many other available supports to enhance the foster parent’s skills and competence. Foster parents are encouraged to be open to utilizing services offered to secure a placement. With the revised customer satisfaction survey for renewing caregivers, the Southern Region gathers information from a sample of families annually related to the availability and comfort level in requesting identified support services. Action plans are developed when appropriate.

8) The responsibility to develop and assist in implementing strategies to prevent placement disruptions, recognizing the traumatic impact of placement disruptions on a foster child and all members of the foster family; and the responsibility to provide emotional support for the youth in care and members of the foster family if preventive strategies fail and placement disruption occur.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Method of early identification of children at risk of disrupting or creating disruption in the family</li> <li>• Training in purpose and availability of stabilization services</li> <li>• Support for foster children and family members if preventive strategies fail</li> </ul>	Methods of early identification of children at risk: Assigned placement workers are required, per Procedure 315.130, to recognize, assess and address any issues in the foster family home and to discuss with foster parents their comfort and capability levels with a child's behavior to ensure the placement is stable and to reduce the risk of possible disruption. FPSS's, caseworkers and FHRLR's are there to provide ongoing support to the foster family. Training needs are assessed and training opportunities are explored with foster families at all licensing monitoring visits. Foster parents are advised in Foster/Adopt PRIDE training of the stresses that being a foster family will present. Foster parents are trained through PRIDE to recognize early symptoms, what behaviors and red flags that may indicate possible disruption prior to acting out behavior and signs of placement disruption to foster family placements. Foster Families are encouraged to take advantage of services to assist in placement stabilization to include, but not limited to, IPS services, and respite services which can be accessed outside of the IPS system. Foster parents are instructed through the Foster Parent Support Specialist (FPSS) or caseworker that they have the ability to access IPS Services when they feel behaviors are escalating and they need help in preventing a disruption from the foster placement. Foster Parents can also request Child and Family Team meetings (CFTM) or When the child's caseworker is unable to resolve a crisis, the caseworker and foster parent can access the IPS provider through a referral. If a youth in care is out of control, a danger to himself/herself, or other members of the family, or in distress beyond capacity to manage, foster parent can access SASS services the 24-hour CARES Line at 1-800-345-9049. There is no limitation to how often you can request his help. The CARES Line is available 24-hours, 7 days a week to help any foster parent in a crisis situation. Prospective foster parent applicants are educated about the traumatic effects of placement disruptions through a combination of Foster PRIDE Training and consultation visits by their designated Foster Home Licensing Representative (FHRLR). The Foster Family Handbook Section 5 (Health Services) identifies crisis numbers and information on how to access services.

		Foster families have Foster Family Handbooks available to them at all times online, and when they are unable to access their handbook, the FPSS or caseworker will assist them with numbers and protocol for receiving crisis services. At the time of placement in unlicensed homes a sheet containing important numbers is left for the family's reference. If preventive strategies fail, FPSS's, FHLR's, and caseworkers are available to offer support to the foster family in order to preserve the foster care resource. Foster families can receive family counseling services after a disruption, if desired. The Southern Region holds its caseworkers to good practice expectations that make it a prerequisite that caseworkers recognize and assist foster parents in accessing IPS services. Workers are particularly required to assist foster parents in those instances where youth in care are presenting behavioral issues that might lead to the disruption of their foster placement.

Foster parents are also encouraged to attend local community Health Fairs, foster parent support groups, and community resources to learn more about stress. As foster parents and caseworkers recognize stress levels accelerating in the home, it is their responsibility to access Respite Care Services to preserve the placement. Respite Care Services are available to all foster parents. “Voluntary hold” methods are explained during initial and ongoing training. Foster parents are encouraged to recognize their limitations and to realize their stress and the need to stabilize their family before taking on any new responsibilities. When the family decides to go on voluntary hold they are expected to call their licensing worker and request to go on or come off of the hold list. Caseworkers may also counsel a family about utilizing voluntary hold, respite or other support services as the need arises. Counseling and other support services are available to youth in care, as well as foster families, at no expense to the foster family. Foster families, youth in care or caseworkers may request to utilize these supports. Supports available include, but are not limited to, the Foster Parent Support Specialist (FPSS), SASS, Intensive Placement Stabilization (IPS), Clinical Intervention for Placement Preservation (CIPP), camps, respite, etc.
