

Index No. 97-12, dated November 15, 1997

Applicable to: Licensed day care centers

Question:

Can completion of Montessori training be counted toward meeting the total credit hours required from an accredited college or university for a day care center director position?

Response:

The Montessori credential is to be considered a substitute for the requirement content areas of child care and child development for a day care center director