immunizations. These required immunizations are poliomyelitis, measles, rubella, diphtheria, mumps, pertussis, tetanus, and haemophilus influenzae B.

Question: Can a child who is being breast fed, be exempt from the requirement of having immunizations (with written approval of a physician) until breast feeding is discontinued?

Discussion: The rules and regulations of the Illinois Department of Public Health require that infants begin immunizations at the age of two months. Infants do get the antibodies from the mother while breast feeding, but the extent of protection that breast milk provides for infants is unknown. The antibodies may not provide adequate protection for the child from diseases that the immunizations are designed to eliminate.

The rules and regulations of the Illinois Department of Public Health are written for the purpose of protecting infants and the public. There are two exceptions that the rules allow regarding immunizations, for religious beliefs and for medical conditions where administering immunizations would cause a risk to the child.

The rules and regulations of the Illinois Department of Public Health are represented in the Department's Licensing Standards for Day Care Homes in subsection 406.14(c)(4)(5)(6) and subsection 406.24(d)(3)(5).

Response: Immunizations are required for children who are being breast fed according to the rules and regulations of the Illinois Department of Public Health as reflected in 89 Ill. Adm. Code 406, Licensing Standards for Day Care Homes.
